Accolades
- Mostly well organized
- Clean presentation
- Spirit of the site is good,

Issues/Suggestions
- Consider switching title from archives to devlogs or portfolio
- Adjust padding on the sides
- More graphics, it lacks a strong sense of identity
- Consider adding extra colors like accent colors. I suggest looking up premade pallets
- White borders on the boxes in the home  page feel out of place

Accolades
- I love the drop downs
- It's well laid out

Issues/Suggestions
- The stark gray is a bit sterile
- Break up your text into smaller paragraphs
- Site is quite wide, sort of hard to read text that goes across the whole screen
- It was just a little bit confusing to tell what is open and what is closed sometimes

Accolades
- Obviously design and drop downs look cool.
- Good job on scaling for screen changes

Issues/Suggestions
- Gameplay programmer is just  little too close in size to your name for my taste
- Blue and purple are too equally saturated, but don't look bad. Consider desaturating one
- Site is wide, which can make it hard to read or easy to get lost.
- Consider breaking up paragraphs into shorter paragraphs, especially if you make it less wide
- The white header and footer feels like it stands out a bit too much

Accolades
- Very clean and well laid out
- Video on the main page looks great. Good job

Issues/Suggestions
- Header is crowded, consider a drop down for your projects with a single project tab instead
- Watch out for cut off text in thumbnails. If the text get's cut off it's better to include an image with no text
